Talent Development as a Competitive Advantage

(Hong Kong, 18 January, 2010) At City Telecom (H.K.) Ltd. ("City Telecom", HKEX: 1137, NASDAQ: CTEL), we consider Talent Development to be our key competitive advantage. Whilst most people think of City Telecom, via our wholly owned subsidiary Hong Kong Broadband Network Limited, as a high tech fibre telecom carrier or as a high profile marketing company, we in fact invest more money on our Talent (salaries and wages) than on capex plus advertising & marketing. During the twelve months to 31 August 2009, we incurred Talent expenses that exceeded the combined total of Capital Expenditure plus non-Talent advertising marketing expenses. In short, City Telecom is in fact a Talent company.
